WASHINGTON INTERNATIONAL TRADE ASSOCIATION

welcome you to the

2024 WITA/WITF Annual Dinner

Each year we honor individuals who have provided leadership and vision in the advancement of international trade and economic policy.

Thank you for joining us this evening as we honor

Senator Chris Coons

United States Congress

Congressman Darin LaHood

United States Congress

Welcome to the Washington International Trade Association and Foundation Dinner!

On behalf of the Boards of the Washington International Trade Association and Foundation, welcome! We are delighted you are able to join us this evening.

With help and support from all of you, the Trade Community, WITA continues to grow and expand, both in terms of sheer numbers and impact. Today, we have nearly 6,000 members, nearly double the number we had in 2020. We continue to expand our national and global reach, and in September, we will be hosting our first international trade reception and a panel discussion at the WTO Public Forum in Geneva!

Central to WITA's growth is the work of the WITA Academy™, whose mission is to make trade education and careers in international trade more accessible to diverse communities in the United States and around the world.

Since we launched the WITA Academy in the fall of 2022, we have hosted 524 students from 45 different colleges and universities for career development seminars, as part of our Pathways program. Many of you are part of the "faculty" of this unique and inspiring program. We are grateful to you, the global trade professionals who have shared your stories to help bring the next generation of trade professionals into our community, and to make our community itself more diverse and inclusive. We have also expanded our trade education and capacity building programs. 640 government officials from 76 different countries have taken part in our Intensive Trade Seminars - including 412 from 27 different U.S. government agencies.

Tonight, we come together to be reunited with old friends and to celebrate the achievements of trade leaders. We honor two Members of the U.S. Congress who have worked to advance America's global leadership and to promote the interests of their constituents through trade. They are Congressman Darin LaHood, a senior Member of the House Ways & Means Trade Subcommittee, and Senator Chris Coons, the Chairman of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs, and a Member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations. Both are committed to bringing people together across party lines to advance the interests of America and global trade.

We are also pleased to host a former winner of WITA's Congressional Leadership Award, and a friend to many of us, Congressman Earl Blumenauer, the Ranking Member and past Chairman of the House Ways & Means Trade Subcommittee. We congratulate Congressman Blumenauer on a remarkable career of public service, and are grateful he is giving his valedictory remarks on trade at tonight's dinner.

Tonight's honorees and speakers embody WITA's vision that we can come together to debate and discuss international trade as a means to strengthen the U.S. and global economies, and to support workers, farmers, and firms around the world.

Thank you for being here to celebrate our honorees and our phenomenal trade family.

Have a great evening,

Steve Lamar

Chairman of the Board
Washington International Trade Association

Ted Austell

Chairman of the Board
Washington International Trade Foundation

Senator Chris Coons

As a U.S. Senator for more than a decade, Chris Coons has worked hard to find bipartisan solutions to the issues facing Delaware, the nation, and the world.

As a member of the Foreign Relations, Judiciary, Appropriations, and Small Business and Entrepreneurship Committees, and as Co-Chair of the bipartisan Senate Select Committee on Ethics, Senator Coons is uniquely positioned to nurture American innovation and make the United States more competitive in the global market.

Senator Coons is Chair of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs, where he focuses on strengthening U.S. alliances, supporting displaced and vulnerable people, and bolstering public health infrastructure around the world. He is also Co-Chair of the Senate Human Rights Caucus.

In these roles, Senator Coons is working for the interests of Delaware and the United States abroad while shaping a more stable, secure, and prosperous world. This includes advocating for peace and stability in regions plagued by conflict, supporting American partners and allies, and advancing U.S. international trade interests.

A longtime New Castle County resident, he lives in Wilmington with his wife, Annie. They have three children: Michael, Jack, and Margaret.

Congressman Earl Blumenauer

A lifelong resident of Portland, Oregon, Congressman Earl Blumenauer is one of Oregon's innovative leaders. Raised in SE Portland, Earl attended Centennial High School. While still a college student at Lewis and Clark College, he led the campaign in Oregon to lower the voting age. He was a key player just two years later as one of the youngest legislators in Oregon's history in a landmark session for school funding, ethics reform and Oregon's groundbreaking land use laws.

As a Multnomah County Commissioner and member of the Portland City Council, Earl's innovative accomplishments in transportation with light rail, bicycles and the street car, planning and environmental programs and public participation helped Portland earn an international reputation as one of America's most livable cities.

Elected to the US House of Representatives in 1996, Earl has been a tireless advocate for the 3rd Congressional District. He's recognized for his creative, innovative policies and accomplishments, and also his political leadership in Oregon and nationwide. He tackles controversial issues and finds ways to break ideological and partisan gridlock with a unique approach to problem solving that brings people together.

He is currently a member of the Ways and Means Committee, Ranking Member of the subcommittee on Trade and a member of the subcommittee on Health. Earl is also serving as a senior member on the Budget Committee. Earl has been a champion for rebuilding and renewing our nation's infrastructure, economic security for families, protection of public lands, stopping gun violence, ending the prohibition of marijuana, and criminal justice reform.

Congressman Darin LaHood

Congressman Darin LaHood is serving his fourth full term in Congress, representing the 16th Congressional District of Illinois, which spans 21 counties across central and northwestern Illinois, including Peoria, Bloomington-Normal, Rockford, and Galena. He serves on the House Ways and Means Committee, the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, and the House Select Committee on the Chinese Communist Party. LaHood is the Chairman of the Ways and Means Subcommittee on Work and Welfare and the Intelligence Committee's National Security Agency and Cyber Subcommittee. During his time in Congress, LaHood has had a strong record of leadership for his constituents in Illinois, promoting economic development, fiscal responsibility, and supporting America's national security interests. LaHood has been an outspoken advocate for creating a better business climate, reducing our federal deficit, and advocating for better international market access for the U.S. farmers. He believes strengthening America's economic and security interests are essential to effectively compete with countries like China and Russia. LaHood also serves on the House Democracy Partnership and currently co-chairs the bipartisan US-China Working Group, Digital Trade Caucus, US-Lebanon Friendship Caucus, and the Congressional Soccer Caucus. LaHood, a third generation Peorian, graduated from Spalding High School. He earned a B.A. from Loras College and holds a J.D. from the University of Illinois-Chicago John Marshall Law School. Congressman LaHood and his wife Kristen currently reside in Peoria and are the proud parents of three sons, McKay, Lucas, and Teddy.

Sponsorship Opportunities

We are incredibly grateful for the support WITA receives throughout the year, through the record attendance at our online events, sponsorship of our event series, and of course through WITA's Annual Dinner – the TRADE PROM - the biggest annual gathering of the international trade community. We're also incredibly grateful to the WITA Academy sponsors, whose support has enabled us to bring this vital initiative to an even wider audience across the U.S. and around the world.

WITA is widely considered Washington's premier trade forum, and we are very grateful for your support of our efforts to promote trade-related dialogue around the world. In addition to the Annual Dinner, WITA and WITF (a 501(c)(3) a non-profit which supports the educational mission of WITA), offer various ways to support our trade education mission, including event sponsorships and series sponsorship.

The mission of the WITA Academy™ is to make trade education and career opportunities in international trade accessible to communities in the United States and around the world.

Working with our global network of trade professionals, we are expanding what the term “inclusive” means to WITA and the trade community at large.

The two pillars of the WITA Academy are Career Development and Trade Education.

Pillar I: Career Development: Through our Pathways programs, we are working with universities to give students the knowledge they need to access career opportunities in international trade.

Our vast network of trade professionals in the United States and around the world allows the WITA Academy “faculty” to highlight different pathways to future jobs in trade. These Pathways programs empower individuals to overcome obstacles that might otherwise keep them from accessing careers in international trade.

The work of the WITA Academy fosters a sustainable pipeline for the international trade community to bring the best and brightest, next generation workforce into the trade policy community – diversifying its network of professionals with new talent that may not have previously sought careers in international trade.

Pillar II: Trade Education, Capacity Building & Workforce Development: For almost 20 years, WITA’s Intensive Trade Seminars (ITS) have educated government officials, the private sector and the public to better navigate the Washington and international trade policy landscape.

Building on this success, we’ve taken the ITS model global. Our first international intensive trade seminar focused on trade and development for officials from over 30 African countries. In just the last two years, we’ve also hosted sessions on European trade governance, U.S.-China policy, and the World Trade Organization.

Through the work of the WITA Academy, WITA and the Washington International Trade Foundation are committed to supporting the next generation of trade policy leaders. If you wish to join us in this mission, please reach out to Ken Levinson, Diego Anez, or any of our Board Members.
